ESS DIRECTORY.

Articles of Manufacture.

FURNITURE WAREHOUSE.
NO. 102 BOWERY, is closed for Alterations and Repairs. Carpet Stock—where can be had Furniture of every description; Sacking Bottoms, Mattresses, &c. &c. at months at cash made Cabinet All which is for sale on the most reasonable terms, by JOHN GROTE CASS

G. L. SIOANA CO COACH AND CARRIAGE MAKERS, No. 56 First street, respectfully informs his friends and the public in general, that he has on hand a general assortment of Carriages, Coaps, Sulkies, Wagons and Sleighs, on the most liberal terms. N. B. Carriages, Wagons, Sleighs, &c repaired in a neat and expeditious manner, at short notice, on the most liberal terms. All orders thankfully received and punctually attended to. 4 doors

PATENT SPIRIT LIGHT.—G. MICHELL, Inventor and Manufacturer of the new discovered SPIRIT LAMPS, 194 Broadway, New York, which for economy and economy, far surpasses any other light of all other public. They burn five hours for two cents, without any attention. The great encouragement they have received, is the best recommendation. 4 cents

VARIETY BREAD STORE.
702 BROADWAY.
PIERCE & LEAK, successors to A. & D. Woodruff, 702 Broadway, corner of Bond street, keep constantly for sale, a great variety of bread, consisting of about forty-odd kinds of Crackers, Cakes, Bread and Fancy Biscuits, among which are the following:—

Water Crackers,		Composition Cake,
Butter do		Plum do
Sugar do		Pound do
Boston do		Sponge do
Soda do	Wafers,	Honey do
Tremont Biscuit,		Sugar do
President do		Thin Sugar do
Milk do		Ginger do
Tea do		Ginger Nuts,
Pilot Bread,		Round Hearts
Water do		Seed Cakes,
Dried Rusk,		Fancy do
Tea Biscuits,		Lemon do

Graham bread of a superior quality baked every day. 223

LITHOGRAPHY.
BISHEE, Artist in Lithography, has resumed the practice of his professional No. 26 Canal street, having engaged the assistance of several of the first Artists in Europe in the different departments of the Lithographic art, he is now prepared to execute every description of Lithographic Drawing, Writing, and Printing, in a style of excellence equal to the best imported specimens of the art, or of the finest copper plate engravings, and on terms as favorable as any establishment in the U. States.

Publishers of Workson Medicine, Anatomy, Botany, Natural History, Chemistry, will be guaranteed an unlimited number of equal impressions, from each drawing, at less than half the expense of any other method of producing them.

Portraits drawn on stone from life, or copied from Paintings, Prints or Drawings, with any number of impressions—Plans, Historical and Fancy subjects, Landscapes, views, Vignettes, Maps, Music, Tables, Address and Visiting Cards, Commercial and Ornamental cards, Fac Similes, &c. Feb 9

WILLIAM HANCOCK,
UPHOLSTER, Importer and Manufacturer of the various kinds of Upholstery goods, No. 57 to 61 Chatham, Boston, Mass. At this warehouse, the public will find all the articles they may require, and at times a very extensive assortment of Cabinet Furniture, and more especially a great variety of Boston Hair Mattresses, which are warranted to be the best made. Chairs, and every description of Upholstery work, on the most reasonable terms. 4 doors

BOSTON BRUSH MANUFACTORY.
JOHN G. MURRAY, No. 19, Exchange street, Boston. All kinds of Brushes made to order, and a good assortment constantly on hand. B. Wash-Boards, Pearsall's American brushes, for which the highest cash price will be paid on delivery in many quantity. mar 22

AMERICAN PERFUMERY
TO MERCHANTS AND DEALERS IN PERFUMERY AND FANCY ARTICLES.—The subscribers offer a splendid and general assortment of perfumery, not to be equalled in the country, and on a scale of liberality and reasonable, with discriminating which they offer on terms liberal, and solicit purchasers to an inspection of the assortment. SNYDER & CO. Importers and Dealers in English and French Perfumery, 3rd door south of Fulton st. 4 20

Miscellaneous.

JOHNSON & GREEN,
MANUFACTURERS OF HAIR SEATING AND CURLED HAIR, offer for sale at their Factory Ware Room, corner of Nassau and Beekman streets, an plain Hair Seating, from 28 inches wide, Round Hair Seating, 36 to 28 inches wide, Round Chair Seating by the dozen, outside for Cabriolet Seats, white and fancy Hair Cloth, black Hair Cloth, Hair Cloth, calculated for Stock and Cigar Cloth, Curled Sun Webbing, 300 dozen Hair Stock Stiffeners. Also the Curled Hair in Rope. nov 10

COLEMAN & NATIONAL HOTEL.
THE NATIONAL HOTEL, occupied by B. Jessup and the COLEMAN HOTEL, lately occupied by Philander Fobes, with a view to himself and great satisfaction to the public, have been connected for the purpose of furnishing gentlemen and commodious and convenient to travellers and boarders. The buildings have been put in well in repair, and the Parlors, Bedding Rooms and Chambers so arranged as to furnish the greatest comfort and convenience to private families, travellers and merchants. The furniture is new, and in style equal to any, which has lord the best class. The location is in South Market street, opposite the North River Steamboat landing. The subscribers will give his personal attention to the accommodation and comfort of his guests, and will be responsible for the attention and fidelity of his servants. He will claim no more of public patronage than has needfully in business and the conveniences of his establishment justly entitle him. A public, with a wagon, will be in readiness to convey baggage to and from the Steamboats, free of charge. B. JESUP

Albany, june 25.

WINTER FASHIONS.
At H. T. STURGEON'S, 256 Broadway, 2 doors from Peale's Museum.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY colored and Silk Cloaks, made in a superior style and latest patterns. A large assortment of French Gloves, gentlemen and ladies' Silk, Cotton, Merino, Angola, Lambs wool and Worsted Hose. Gloves of every description, and a splendid assortment of Fancy Shawls, Handkerchiefs, Ribbons, and a general assortment of every article in French and English fancy goods. Gentlemen's Fancy Stocks, Collars, &c. which will be offered at the lowest prices. nov 10

THOMAS KENNEDY'S
CARVING, GILDING, LOOKING GLASS AND PICTURE FRAME FACTORY, No. 51 and 53 Broad street, New York, where every species of Cornice Ornaments, Pictures & Looking-glass Frames, Brackets, &c. &c. are constantly with punctuality, and on the lowest terms. Old frames Regild or Repaired. Pictures and Prints cleaned and varnished. &c. Nov 17

DRUGS, MEDICINES, PAINTS, OILS, &c.
OLIVER HILL, No. 105 Maiden lane, between Pearl and Water streets, New York, have on hand a general assortment of Drugs, Medicines, Paints, Dye Woods, Chemicals, &c. which he offers for sale on the most reasonable terms, and in quantities to suit purchasers. 3 mos

WHITE and Red Lead, Yellow Ochre, Spanish Brown, Brighton Brown, Venetian Red, Chrome Green, Chrome Yellow, Prussian Blue, in barrels or kegs; Crown Red, best Bermudas dry, do do 2d quality, Balsam Tolu in jars, Balsam Copaiva in demijohns and bottles, Oil Rhodium, Oil cassia, Oil Sassafras, Oil Wintergreen, Oil Pennyroyal, Oil Vitriol in carboys and bottles, Aqua fortis in do do, Muriatic Acid in do do do, ground and chipped Fine Wood in barrels, Madder in cases and barrels, Cochineal, Cream Tartar, Copperas, Sulphur, Saltpetre, Varnish, Camphor, Castile Soap, Ink Powder, Rubber's best, do do 2d quality, Sacrifice Powders, Soda Powders, Lee's Pills, Wardum and New London Cord Plaster, Sticking Plaster, Medal Pills for dyspepsia, Shoulder braces for coughs, Foreign and American Patent Medicines, Medicine chests ready for sale, and every article in their line. may 3

REDON AL.
MRS. WEATHERBY, Long Stay and Corset Maker, respectfully informs the Ladies and the public, that she has removed herself well known Establishment, the Ladies Stays and Corset Manufactory, from 225 to 229 Broadway, third house above, between Duane and Reade st. where the whole of her business will in future be conducted. Ladies can be waited on at their own dwellings, or at Mrs. W's Rooms. Just received at the above establishment from London and Paris, a variety of new and improved patterns, which for ease and elegance, are approved of by the most accomplished of the fashionable ladies, as highly conducive to health. Mrs. W. can confidently offer her corsets as an assortment purported at an expense, combining all the modern improvements, and the high health and symmetry of form. N. B. Constantly on hand a large assortment of Gentlemen's elastic rubber belts and military braces, to which Mr. P. Weatherby is the inventor and patentee. Written further recommendation, we shall give any reasons why we adopted a signature as long as any body in Springfield collected Patent Hose. Wholesale

Jet Brooches at affordable that variety of music calculated to please and benefitable to effect the public of the country, 24 Barrows, it has recently made its appearance in the Amphitheatre of great merit, in their proper ranks which before were the same as lost to the world—they being out of print. 24 Brooches are composed with silver, gold, and platina, and not particular to one class of the entertainment of the Bellevue the alternations in the performances and relative with the amusements and the public, the Jet Brooches of a superior quality, and the Jet Brooches are elegant, and the Jet Brooches are elegant, and the Jet Brooches are elegant

NEW-YORK TRAVELLER, SPIRIT OF THE TIMES, AND FAMILY JOURNAL.

New-York
TRAVELLER, TIMES & JOURNAL.

"Laugh at the jests, or pranks that severfall,
Or sigh with pity at some mournful tale,
Or press the bashful stranger to his food—
And learn the luxury of doing good."

SATURDAY ,EVENING, May 25, 1833.

BALTIMORE RACES, CENTRAL COURSE

BALTIMORE, Wednesday, May 15.

Second Day—"THE CRAIG CUP."

This city and its neighborhood have been exposed to a heavenly "shower bath" all last night and the entire of this day, so that the track is a complete puddle, of course. But as sportsmen are always in a racy humor, many hundreds raked their Nedes just to see "The Craig." Every one seemed in high spirits notwithstanding the fall of waters, and showed their stable mirth by their horse laughs amidst the fun and fog of stray wheelers, that had run all the way from the poles, and broken down hacks that were no longer wheelers. Sorry sorrels that would pay forfeit to snails having barely four feet to run on. And Nags in full rack, whose bones told of empty mangers,—made the whole road look like New York on May day—quite a moving Panorama!

First Race.

Sweepstakes for Colts and Fillies,—mile heats—Entrance $100, h. f. 5 subs—3 forfeits.

Chas. S. W. Dorsey's ch. f. Ann Page, 82 lbs
Jno. Ridgeley's b. f. ——— 82 lbs

The track was so exceedingly wet, that in the first quarter, the bay mare fell,—and though her rider and she were both unhurt, was of course distanced.

Second Race—THE SPLENDID CRAIG CUP—value $500. 2 mile heats.

T. R. S. Boyce's b. h. "Monsoon," 4 years, 110lb. 1 1
Jacob Fouke's ch. c. "Tyrant," 4 years, 100lb. 2 2
Col. W. R. Johnson's ch. m. "Annette," 6 do 115lb 3 3
James M. Seldon's b. h. "Duke of Orleans," [5 years, 110lb. 4
John M. Bott's ch. h. "Rapid," 5 years, 110lb. 5

1st heat.—The Course was so exceedingly wet that the horses slipt about like lumps of ice on a chafing-dish. Some bad management was evinced in starting the horses,—the voice of one of the trainers being much louder in his directions than that of the Judges — several false starts were thus created and the "Duke" run the first quarter, before his rider could pull him up. When the start was obtained, Monsoon took the lead, closely pressed by the Duke.—But in the second round, Tyrant made play—"pushed the Duke" and passed him, and keeping close to the skirts of Monsoon, very gallantly contested the heat with him, which the latter won in very good style. Time 4 37

"Annette" was the favorite until before starting and was taken even against the field,—but she could not run in the mud.

2d heat.—After several false starts the Judges gave the word to "go,"—but some confusion arising from the before named cause, the horses were recalled by hoisting the red flag. Annette, Tyrant and Monsoon pulled up and returned,—but the Duke and Rapid, who had accomplished their first quarter, after a brief pause determined on continuing the race and accordingly started from where they had stopped and completed the two miles, Rapid first, and the Duke second. Much dispute arose whether this heat was properly run,—some contending that the three who returned were distanced,—and others that the two had no right to run the heat then, as the Judges had recalled them by the agreed signal. The Judges determined in favor of the three, who were accordingly brought up to a fresh start, the Duke and Rapid drawn. Annette took the lead,—followed by Monsoon and closely attended by Tyrant. In the first mile the mares showed great fatigue, and on being challenged, was obliged to surrender to the Tyrant who, though closely pressed by Monsoon, won the heat in 1 min. 52 sec. Annette being distanced.

3d heat.—The two horses got off in beautiful order, —Monsoon on taking the lead twice the outside of the track in the vain hope of getting a firmer footing — on the back stretch, Tyrant tried to pass, but was still headed by Monsoon. In the brush on the last quarter both horses nearly came to the ground,—and though closely pressed by Tyrant, Monsoon won the heat in 4 37 1-2. Owing to the state of the course the running was not good, but the circumstances of the 2d heat rendered it a most interesting Race,—and loud cheers welcomed Monsoon as he passed the Judges' stand.

Mr. T. R. S. Boyce is thus the winner of this splendid Cup, and we feel satisfied that he will not think the blowing of the Monsoon is an ill wind to him.

BALTIMORE, Friday, 17th May.

Third Day.

Jockey Club Purse $1000—four mile heats.

Jas. M. Selden's b. h. Sydney, by Sir Charles 4 1
Col. W. R. Johnson's ch. h. Goliah, by Eclipse 1 dist
T. R. S. Boyce's b. h. Monsoon, by Ratler, 2 dr
Jno. M. Bott's ch. h. Rapid, by Ratler, 2 dis.
Geo. Cooke's b. m. Nancy Marlborough, by Rob Roy. dis

1st heat.—At starting, two to one were freely offered on Goliah. Rapid made all the running from the pump, and kept the lead till within the mile distance, when Goliah under whip and spur, passed him, winning by half a length. Monsoon came in third, but was then drawn,—indeed it was high time, having run and won a match on Monday,—the Craig Cup on Wednesday, besides this 4 mile heat. Time 9 9.

2d heat.—While rubbing off, it was very evident that the bay horse, Sydney, though keeping back during the first heat, was now in the best condition of the three that had to run,—though the betting was more than ever in favor of Goliah. Sydney took the lead, and speedily made so wide a gap between him and his two Competitors that the chance of Goliah or Rapid became evidently hopeless and he won the second heat in 9 minutes, distancing the field. This was an unlooked for event but proved that Sir Charles' colts have the heel.

The weather was much better over head, but the course was still in very sad condition.

Fourth Day

SATURDAY, 18th May.—Proprietor's Purse $500. 3 mile heats.

Jas. M. Selden's b. h. Sir Whitefoot, by John Hancock, 4 years, 4 2
Capt. L. G. Taylor's ch. m. Patty Snaggs, by Jno. Richards, 5 years, 3 dis
Mr. Brightwell's gr. m. Helen, 5 years, 2 3
John M. Bott's b. h. Rolla, by Gohanna, 4 years, 1 1

1st heat.—"Patty Snaggs" started closely followed by Helen, while Rolla and Whitefoot very gallantly gave way to the females and followed them at a respectful distance, but in the 3d round, finding the lead fatigued them, Rolla with the greatest ease and politeness passed into the front and took all the trouble off their legs, leaving Sir Whitefoot to attend them in the rear. Time 6 38

2d heat.—Whitefoot took the lead and kept it during the first 2 miles,—but on the back stretch of the 3d round Rolla let on some of his speed, and though he had full 40 yards to make up, won the heat in a gallant style in 6 min. 17 sec. Helen coming in third, and Patty Snaggs being distanced. This was the last day's races, and considered as matter of sport, the meeting altogether was very poor. The weather rendered the course exceedingly heavy, so that time in all cases was very bad. All the favorites, with the exception of Rolla and Medoc, were beaten easily by outside horses, and those whose running was looked forward to as the greatest means of sports were taken away before they came.

Centreville Trotting Course, Long Island.—The purse of $200, three miles and repeat, was contended for by

	1st heat	2d
Screw Driver,	1	1
McDuff,	2	2
Cato,	3	dist'd.

The first heat 8 m. 8 sec., the second heat 8 m. 21 sec.

Dr. Ware, of Philadelphia, the successful author of Dion, has completed a new tragedy, entitled the Fair Israelite or the Jews Revenge, which is to be produced at the Bowery. Mr. Hamblin and Miss Vincent sustaining the leading character.

CITY CHARACTERS.

UNDER THE ROSE.

Had land of cakes and brither Scots,
Fra Maiden Kirk, to John O' Groats,
If there's a hole in a your coats,
I rede ye tent it.
A chiel's among you taking notes,
An faith he'll print it

"Do you know that all fashion, loping of humanity coming down by the church yonder?"

"What? the with the low crowned castor, brown frock, green silk umbrella, and hop, and go one shuffle—No."

"Then you have a right to be thankful for he lives black mail on all his acquaintances."

"Why! has he no regular way of support?"

"Aye and of sipping Port too, Jack, for he gets regularly drunk every day—but tush, here he comes you shall soon have a spice of his character."

—Good morning B—

"O good morning my dear boy, so happy to see you, you cant think—but how goes time?"

"Half past two."

"Bless me who d'have thought it—you and your friend (excuse my freedom sir) must go with me—I have a dinner for three, waiting at Wyndhurst's—"

"Well, so be it—but mind B— no chaff—you stand the racket you know."

"Only listen to that, why M—could you suspect me of harboring a low idea."

"Aye! at times; for instance, when you are thinking in a kitchen."

"Ha! ha! ha! how brilliant! but come along here waiter the Champagne, lobster and sallad. Now my boy eat as if you had a pack of wolves in your stomach—how delicous; eh? very partial, to a light lunch 'twixt breakfast and dinner, what's this Byron says, oh:—

——'I'm fond of crackets and all that.

A lobster, sallad and Champagne, and that,'—do gentlemen, eat as if you had not a brace of furze bushes stuck in your gastric passages—but how is this—the devil—Why M. as I hope to be married, every doit I had in the world is behind on my coats, never mind you have change the mantle pieces—never mind you have change you know—and if not, your heed's above water here any how—The half past three—only five minutes to go to Wall street—gents, you must dine with me again to morrow—adieu.

"Stuck, for a docket, stuck?"

"What a presumptuous scoundrel."

"Posh," its nothing but what I expected—I'll tell you an anecdote of him Jack that you may rely on. A country cousin of his came to town some time since, a great swell—plenty of money, but devilish shy of it. Our friend B—was high and dry at the time, or in plain English, had not a farthing to fly with, his only suit was nearly as a superannuated curates—friends cold credit gone, and—but enough. The country cousin had just enshrined himself in a very costly suit of clothes, which took B—'s eye amazingly, and B—was determined if possible, to take them. "Tom," said he, your clothes don't fit you." "Faith" replied Tom, they feel most charmingly. "Feel, or no feel, they are abominably crumpled in the rear. I'll just slip into them for a minute or two, and you can judge of the fact yourself?" Johnny Raw never dreamt of a hoax, and accordingly the next moment B—was on the right side, that is, on the inside of the "duds,"—then was the interesting moment—Johnny stooped down to pat on his slippers and on rising again, lo! and behold you, he discovered that his cousin's suit was a common laughing stock for a month after.

"Ay such genuinee plentiful in your town."

"Ay, in faith thick as grass hoppers in a grave yard, and merry, mad, good-hearted sort of devils they are in the main, only keep them clear of your purse strings. The way your Jeremy Didler manages, is this, all the morning he is employed in either conceiving new, or remodelling a few old jokes: he then sallies forth to illumine the world, a conundrum usually obtains him a breakfast, a dinner generally follows on the strength of a bon mot, and an epigram is considered very fair value for a bottle of wine and a supper of oysters.

"Do yo see that plausible, quakerly-looking personage, with his back towards the fire-place?"

"Yes."

"What would you take him to be?"

"Why, haply a seller of tracts, or a methodist parson,—?"

"Enough, for God's sake enough," why man that is the most celebrated black leg in the Union. you will generally find him dressed in that black coat, and white wig, and never without his eyeglass and yellow cane; mark him, and avoid him—don't trust yourself in his company, there is more ruin and fascination in his eye, than in that of a rattle-snake. You remember poor D— Well D— was the happiest fellow breathing, until that dragon took him in training. Three weeks afterwards, poor D——'s brains plastered the walls of his father's stable, let's away, it is more dangerous to be near him, than in the vicinity of the Upas."

"How is little T. N. of Chatham street, and is pale as the ghost of a quack doctor; has he been ill lately?"

"No, but he has left off rouging since Miss B jilted him, and got married to the mad Attorney."

"He took that business very much to heart, did he not?"

"O most wondrously, and attempted suicide for the twelfth time, but as usual the water was too shallow, and so he was drowned only up to his chin—but look here?"

"Heavens! what a swell, who is he?"

"That's hard to say, his travelling name for the present however is —, he went by Brooms in Boston."

"Indeed! what does he do for a living?"

"That, which in some countries, would help him to die, at the expence of the people; you understand me, to form a tissel for a bank of yarn. To be explicit, it is whispered, that in a far off land, he opened a banking establishment in opposition to government, and sold off his stock at half price."

"Nay, I don't understand you, now."

"Why you of the thing is common enough, I mean that he was a wholesale dealer in counterfeits, and sold one pound notes for ten shillings a piece. However, he has got the thing now, and so of course it would be very unmannerly to inquire too much into his character,—tug at the skirts of an honest poor man as you will, but always upon proper deference to a rich rogue. Let us finish our inventory till next week."

The Moral Cross Book, or the Law of Morals, derived from the created universe, and from revealed religion, is the title of a book newly received, written by William Sullivan, L. L. D. and published by Carter, Hendee and Co. of Boston. We have looked over the work with much pleasure, and can safely recommend it as a highly useful and instructive publication. It is divided in chapters, and much care and judgement has been displayed in the arrangement. The arguments too in favor of the divine cause it upholds are well adduced, and all in all we think it a book calculated to improve the understanding and make the heart better.

LIFE AND ADVENTURES OF A NEWS PAPER WRITTEN BY ITSELF.

The following is a just copy of a letter lately received from the ghost of one of our papers; who was barbarously murdered on his way to Bristol, Bucks Co. some weeks ago. We trust all our subscribers that see this, who may have any cause of complaint will excuse us of negligence for the future, and place the whole blame on the broad shoulders of the post-office department.

Left Nassau street, in the goodly city of Gotham, 12th of April in the present year of our Lord 1833, neatly folded in a strong envelope, and plainly directed for Bristol, Bucks Co. Pennsylvania. Scarcely however had I composed myself for a nap on a counter in the post-office preparatory to my journey, than a whipper snapper of a boy, careless of the individual grief and tribulation my loss might occasion, lifted me with a sacrilegious hand and fired me at the head of a companion in office. By the sound I knew this head to be perfectly empty and therefore was nothing surprised when its proprietor picked me up and hurled me back again. In short, after being bandied about like a shuttle cock until I had lost a clean rag on my body, by good fortune I tumbled into a promiscuous heap of strangers who were bound for different parts of the country, and thus escaped further insult, for the present. By and bye, we were trundled together huddledy pudderdy into a bag, and in a few hours afterwards, I, who was bound for the south—I who was to have been the pleasure, and delight of a family in Bristol for the ensuing week —found myself travelling at the rate of a hunt due east. To make bad worse, my companions were a set of the most disagreeable, unchristianable dogs in the universe. Not a merry word had one of them to say for themselves, but lay knotted and fighting together like a group of adders. They must be Heathens or Turks thinks I: but it turned out otherwise. It appeared they were a set of self constituted moral makers of society, chocked up with paragraphs that appeared from their flavour to be written with sour vinegar and porcupine quills, and born within a scuff, as cracked, black and empty as a supercinated coffee pot.

"Alcohol is the foreteeth of the devil," says one ignorant Hispbumous self conceited animal in the corner.

"Graham Bread and spring water is one of the greatest luxuries in the world," says another.

"Steady and Rota are the genuine waters of the rivers of hell," cried a third, in a nasal twang something between the sigh of a disappointed lover and the braying of a jackass.

"All tipplers will go to the devil head foremost" groaned a fourth.

"Amen, so be it," echoed half a dozen—

How extremely liberal thinks I, but what was to be expected from such a set of stupid hypocrites! but soft what is that good looking portly gentleman yonder going to say—one title of cant, and I'm obliged.

"Roast beef and plumb pudding are the right arm of the Chokers Morbus, and Irish whiskey is the mother of all evil."

"Why you lying, libelling, cauting son of a—what do you mean. Only think of it dear reader here is a graceless villain stigmatizing the sublimest stuff of life that ever made the mouth of a hungry man water and one of the most divine, inspiring, and poetical beverages in the world. As I live by breathing this is one of the foulest aspersions that ever emanated from a watery stomach. But hush! what's the dearie 'its written by that eternal toper—a smooth faced, easy going fellow, 'tis true, but nevertheless one that feasts like an alderman, and sleeps three nights in the week under the table.

"Pull up there!" ha! the coach arrived, what next, glad to be shut off such disagreeable companions one way—[illegible] another, [illegible] hip, hip, hip. "Here distribute these papers, off with a cover or two till we see what they're made of—dont touch B's, we cribbaged his last week. —O that stupid track the——, up with it again: but what's this, directed for Bristol Bucks Co. Pennsylvania. As I live the T— now for fun—ha ha,—there's a touch for the ladies, hand me a scissors Jim, I'll transfer that to my scrap book; now slip it into its envelope again;"—not till I read it father.—Oh what a pretty story, let us keep it till to morrow any how. And accordingly I was laid in the desk for further perusal, but the morrow for dispatching me to my lawful proprietor has never yet arrived nor never will. In short I am maimed and mutilated my brightest beauties raved and all in all, only the shadow of the thing I was.

Dear Sir, I am Yours with much respect, the Ghost of a Traveller and Times.

The Post Office regulations in regard to the delivery of papers, is absolutely scandalous. To what particular department the blame should be attached, we are not sufficiently au fait to the inns and outs of the affairs to form any idea, but that blame should be attached somewhere is sufficiently evident from the fact, that our papers are put into the office in due season, carefully wrapped and well directed, and yet scarce a day passes that we do not receive notices from various parts of the country, complaining of the irregularity with which they are received, some of our subscribers get them a week after they are due, others receive about every second number, and more, dont receive them at all. We dare say all this might be remedied, and very simply—it requires no particular stretch of genius to see that a well directed paper, is put in its right bag, and that the bag is then let at its proper place. Neglect, laziness, or worse intention, are the only apologies that can be offered in extenuation of sending packages to Maine, that are directed for Georgia.

We have one comfort any way, though certainly we can't say much in defence of its magnanimity, namely, that all our brother "Rack Brains" are precisely in the same predicament. We do not wish the worthy gentlemen who have the arrangement of those things to be hung, drawn and quartered, but had we our will, we would certainly either compel them with a force in a mill, or compel them to collect or cash, all the bills rendered doubtful, through their neglect or stupidity.

We must respectfully solicit our friends of the Carolina Watchman, and for his very flattering opinion "of us, and of our comedies, we beg to shake a pen with him, and print our thanks in type of our sincerity. Laughs with life, humor, fresh sound his goal—would be considered dangerous flatters with those on whom flattery is said to have such power. We respect that our friend thinks it "good to be merry and wise" as we would always rather laugh a whole year with the watchman than cry the hour.

The Baltimore Visitor has taken its own gentleman's mode of going in insertion to our advertisement, and we tender him our flitting thanks, and he has been pleased to publish the fact that we can boast of a good name we regret that we have no opportunity to return the compliment: "An revoir, mon ami."

Mr C. F. Durant makes an Ascent in his splendid new Balloon on Wednesday afternoon from the Castle Garden. He commences the process of inflation at 3 o'clock, and about half past 5 will launch himself into mid air, from glorious old night mist our City, and its Waters present to the eye of one who can thus gaze on them as it were from the very clouds.

NEW-YORK RACES

On Monday the races commence on the Union Course, and from the very high character of the Horses, and the great amount of the Stakes, it is expected to be the most numerous and interesting meeting since the days of Eclipse and Henry. A. L. Botts, the spirited proprietor of the Course, has got together Sweepstakes, Matches and Races that will involve in their issue 25,000 dollars, independent of any Bets or the great Inside Stake which will make the Jockey Club Purse such an exciting and valuable object. Some of the finest Nags in the country will run for it, and the long disputed supremacy of Mary Randolph, or O'Kelly, of Miss Matty or Rolla, of the veteran Col. Johnson's unnamed Horse, or the others that are yet to be entered, will be fully and fairly decided, and some thousands of dollars reward the victor's owner. The Match between Charles Kemble and Capt Stockton's Colt will be one of the best run Mile heats that has ever taken place on this course, for both are thoroughbred.

The twelve thousand Dollar Stakes will be contested for by those Veteran Patrons of the Turf, Wm R Johnson, Walter Livingston, and John D. Amiee. The weather bids fair to be most favorable to the sport, and we heartily wish Mr. Botts the success he so richly deserves in this endeavor to make the New York Course what it ought to be,—the first Racing Ground in the United States—Nothing will now be wanting but the inspiring presence of the lovely and the amiable, and as we know that by the fall races an ample and elegant accommodation will be provided for them we trust we shall soon see the day when the smiles of beauty will reward the Victor far more gratefully than all the dollars in all the purses. We hope to see a full and brilliant assemblage on Monday to give the proprietor a hearty welcome to his new friends in New-York.

CONUNDRUMS

Why are two school masters like a pair of black eyes?

Because they shine most in their pupils.
Why is profligacy like playful wit?
Because its bad in-stage.
Why is shaving like throat cutting?
Because its a barbarous act.

THE NEW YORK MIRROR

Of this week is brought out in a style of elegance and beauty, unequalled by any literary work in the United States. It possesses a splendid steel engraving from a picture by Bennett of the Sawkill Falls, which Durand has executed in a very superior style. The Cover which appears in an entirely new form, is a beautiful ornament in itself, and the advertisements that are out have been stereotyped, in a first rate manner, while a very delighted Ballad called, "Now while the star of love is bright,"—published now for the first time, makes this an exceedingly beautiful and valuable number.

Connor and Cooke have published an improved edition of Lord Kame's Elements of Criticism, edited by Abraham Mills, A. M. The work in question is generally known and duly appreciated, but it certainly has never previously appeared in so pleasing a form as that at present before us. As a work highly capable of affording pleasure and instruction, we recommend it to the attention of the public.

NATURE, ART AND MAGNIFICENCE.

By these applications would be distinguished the three prominent resorts of the worthies of our metropolis, and first, Vauxhall Garden, where the horse-chesnut, in native and wild luxuriance, furnishes a grove which may truly be termed academic; such as we can conceive the peripatetic philosophers of old were wont to wander in, and ponder on the immortal Truth; under their shade, made the scene of his dialectic, De Oratore. Nature here, predominates, and to those who delight in this budding and blossoming season, (who does not?) no resort can be found more replete with attraction. The impression is, with many, that Vauxhall has been shorn of its beauty. It is incorrect—for it is deprived of its extent for the purpose of promenade. A part of the garden formerly appropriated to fireworks, and rather detractive from its beauty when not so used, has been merged in Lafayette place; and hence, with many, has the idea obtained that it is no longer inviting. We ask all to go and see—let not the proprietor suffer through ignorance or misrepresentation. Each Sunday evening an expensive Orchestra and Choir give a concert of sacred music, worthy of being listened to; and which, withal, must drown the scruples of those who object to Sunday recreation.

Secondly comes Niblo's—Art here predominates, and so boundless in her dominion, that it is impossible to offer any thing more than a mere adumbration—indeed we cannot even offer that—The tasteful Walker, who is without peer on this side of the Atlantic, has attempted a rivalry of nature in his artful productions—Flora here, in all the richness of this unexampled season, essays, and not vainly, to lure even those who are least sensible to her exhilarating charms. In short Niblo's—is Niblo's, and that, we presume, expresses all.

Thirdly, and magnificently, comes Castle Garden, fed, though not accompanied, by a Marsh. Here art and nature combine to invite the invalid, or the gay Epicure. Here, the southern belle and beau may wander, while their wonted luxurious exudes, and catch the inspiriting breeze; which wafted from the broad Atlantic kisses the pomegranates, and revels in their vernal fragrance, imparting joy and vigor.

Thus faintly and briefly, have we described our three great resorts. To speak of Hoboken and its Elysian Fields, would be "to paint the lily." To speak of the Thatched Cottage Garden, Jersey city, would be equally unnecessary; but to speak of Brooklyn in its present blossoming and flourishing state, would be but to perform an act of justice to those who are ignorant of its inviting promenades, and the trumpet tongue which in the rattling of every leaf, proclaims the onward march of a country without peer or parallel.

For the Traveller & Times

A POET'S REQUEST.

Claude Sauguin, a French poet, who died at the close of the last century, having had his house consumed by lightning, sent the following ingenious piece to Louis XIV, on the occasion. The monarch at once felt the delicacy of the poet's verses, and the doubtful situation, and cheerfully ordered him the one thousand crowns, which the reader will find, was the object of his demand.

To congress in your matters belongs not to me,
This, Sire, no reasonable freedom would be;
But yet, when reasoning my miseries past,
Of your majesty's income the total I cast
All counted I've still the remembrance quite clear,
Your revenue's one hundred millions a year.
Hence, one hundred thousand per day is your gain,
Divided, brings four thousand—comes to each hour,
To answer the calls of my present distress,
Which fortune has caused in my country's recess.
May I be allowed to request noble Sire,
Of your time fifteen minutes, before I expire.

TROTTING MATCH

A great trotting match took place yesterday at the Hunting Park Course, near this city. Four horses were entered. It was a swam' a mid repeat. The horses were Sally Miller, Dread, Jerry, Top Gallant and Sweepstake.

The purse was won by Sally Miller in two heats—The first heat 5m. 23 sec—second do. 5m. 20 sec—Phil. Gaz.

CHAPTER ON NOSES.

OR SPECTACLES REVIVED.

Time out of mind the nose (poetically called the scutcheon) has been considered a useful, nay, an almost indispensible ornament to the face, more especially if the proprietor of the said face be any way addicted to small taking. But for all this a nose, as the song says, should not look like a snout, or even an elephant's trunk, to which some, that we wot of, bear a strong affinity, and in order to prove this to the satisfaction of the world, we have undertaken to write the present chapter.

What we take to be a handsome, prettily proportioned nose, should come down in a slant from the forehead, to the length of from two to three inches, but on no account to exceed three and an half, and terminate tolerably broad and high, so as to leave the nostrils as distinct and palpable, as the arches of a bridge. The surface should never be the ground work of more than two bumps, or rather undulating swells, for it is perfectly unnecessary to the formation of a well organized nose, to have it shaped like a shelf of rocks, or the back of a camel.

Noses may be placed in three distinct classes.—In the first place, your perawnickle nose, which comprehends all that are shaped like a crab apple, and stuck in the middle of the face, having no apparent connection with any other section of the countenance. These are generally to be found among reverend officers, land waiters, tithe proctors, and police men, and have sometimes even been known to ornament the physiognomy of a parson.

The next is your teapot nose. This takes in all such as are known by the familiar name of bottle noses, taper noses, and Belzebub conks. The shapes are as various as the dots of a Leopard, but they are generally Dutch built, independent looking articles, round and red at the top, and coming down to a rugged base, so broad, that it appears to compromise the whole countenance.

This class is generally confined to Colonels, Commodores, Bishops, Butchers, Hosts and Aldermen.

The third class is your mondescript nose, under which we may place, all such as have a top and bottom, but no middle, and all those that appear like ripe cherries, hanging from the forehead by a bit of red tape,—this genus belongs especially to drunken sailors.

The fourth is your Ethiopian or pancake nose.—This class is so generally known, that it requires no explanation.

No. 5, is your parrot or drooping nose. This genus is much demand with the ladies from a supposition that the proprietors of them are of royal descent; however we can assure them in this is all a hoax, for it has been proved on very respectable authority, that the first King had a nose belonging to the genus of the "teapot."

No. 6, is your "razor nose." We include under this head your cobbler's awl, your sword fish, and your kites claw noses. Indeed the whole of this class bear a strong resemblance to some one of the foregoing articles, and are usually more like the shadow of noses than noses in reality. They are generally in the possession of Editors, Quakers, Lawyers, Curates, Musicians, and in short all those who are in the habit of drawing on their wits for a living.

No. 7, and last, is your natural or common place nose; however, it sometimes deservedly loses this appellation, for it would be extremely wrong, to call any nose, a natural nose, that traverses six inches off a gentleman's countenance. Such instances are termed ram-rod noses, but are placed in the seventh class. The common place nose is confined to no order of society.

Spurzheim has been altogether wrong in affirming that the bumps of discrimination lie in the top or back of the cranium; the truth is the nose is the grand seat of discrimination, and, reader, beg pardon, we mean, it is the great window by which you can see into the seat of intellect, and judge of its nature accordingly.

To assist all such as choose to make this peculiarity of the "scenter" their study we will give some general calculations, and so close our chapter.

The crab apple nose is the certain outward and visible sign of a sour disposition.

The "teapot" nose usually marks the open heart, and likewise that its possessor is rather given to brandy punch, roast beef and plumb pudding.

Your mondescript nose, is the evidence of an up and down sort of temperament, that's neither one thing or other half the five minutes together, but alternate shine or storm like the fag end of an April day.

The Pancake or Ethiopian is the indubitable manifestation of a mind as flat as itself.

The parrot or drooping nose, bespeaks a space of sentimentality, dancing modern generally wear drooping noses.

Your razor nose at once leads you into all the secrets of the brain, that's behind it, which, in nearly every case, consists of such a congregation of law, poetry and politics, that the mesmerists in general left under the impression that its proprietor is a fool.

Your natural nose however is a downright power, and we have been often as much puzzled in its study as Spurzheim may be supposed to have been, while contemplating a head without a lump, and at last, after many experiments, we are compelled to come to the conclusion, that it would be as difficult a task to see into a man's intellects through the medium of a natural nose, as if he had no nose at all.

EXTRAORDINARY ANECDOTE OF SQUIRRELS

We have received a most interesting letter from one of our Virginia friends, who recently left our Gotham and has returned to the old Dominion, impressed, as we hope all our readers are, with a high opinion of our city and citizens. Of the finer portion of them he says "your Ladies are—with very few exceptions—universally handsome,—much more so than in our other cities. We can assure our good friend that nothing will please us more than to find he fulfils the threat he makes to next fall to take two to one. We give an extract from the letter, in order that his most singular account of Squirrels may have the benefit of being told in his own words.

FARMVILLE VA. May, 1833.

We have many wild Turkeys, Foxes, Hares and Squirrels in this neighborhood, and of the latter so many, that they often destroy whole fields of corn. A gentleman of my acquaintance told me an anecdote of the Squirrels which happened a few years ago on his farm on James River. He had observed one morning while the river was very high, that many of the little rogues, after having feasted during the night in his cornfield, swimming back across the river. A common practice of the Squirrels was to cut a log, dragged under water, there to be devoured at leisure in piles. Now there was a pile of shingles lying on the bank, to be sent down the river, and the next morning as the gentleman walked out again he saw each Squirrel dragging a shingle in the water, jumped upon it, and paddling across the stream,—thus escaping the mouth of the first mis pike. Now, Sir, don't you call this wonderful sagacity? I would give son more, but have not time until the days have got their full growth, when you shall hear again from your

Most obed't Servant
G. J. K.

Mr. Wallack is playing at the Mobile Theatre; Forest at the New-Orleans.

THE FASHIONABLE ENTHUSIAST

At the musical entertainments of Lord Whistle, at his mansion in GROSVENOR square, one of the fashionables, a Miss P. was observed to be frequently in tears. The sensibility of this girl was noticed by his lordship, who obtained a to the fashionable effect of the composition, and with praiseworthy consideration he hastened to console her.

"Oh, Lord! my lord, your lordship's strains are such—so exciting," exclaimed the sobbing lady.

"Nay, my dear creature, moderate this passion—a moment seize my pianos, if it displeases you I will endeavor to mitigate my pathos, and tell the spleen dor of my talent. I know I am affecting—expression is my forte. But, oh! nature," exclaimed his lordship, looking up, "if I am endowed with these talents only to wring the heart of so fair a model of the perfections of her sex."—

"Forbear, my lord, to make any rash resolutions—what would the western world lose if a pen of so ravishing a delicacy were permitted to rest—I feel myself some what recovered now, and the second act of the opera may now proceed—but that tender passages, she attempts to sing at, but is overpowered by her feelings—I shall never get over it.

The noble composer walked about in deep pathos, striking his forehead from time to time, and almost cursing the hour when he brought into the world so overpowering a genius. "In future," said he, mentally, "I see it will be necessary to have Sir Henry Halford in attendance, and a convenient infirmary fitted up."

The rest of the company bore the music pretty well, and the ladies were all bursting with envy at Miss P.'s hysterical facilities, none of them being able to squeeze out a drop of brine.

"It is very surprising," exclaimed a good-humored dowager, "but the more cakes I swallow & the more to I drink, the less I am inclined to cry. One would like to gratify his lordship, and endeavor, as much as in one lay, to approve his power over the passions, and it must be confessed that if all the ladies present would draw out their handkerchiefs, and weep a little in unison, the effect would be good. But for my own part, I fear the attempt is vain. I feel always in such dreadful high spirits."

"What can be done, my dear friend?" said her neighbor, "his lordship will certainly think us the most callous-hearted of beings, if we sit with inflexible faces, while others are melted to the extremity of wise. I have a thought—what think you of an opinicure as a remedy for sluggish sympathies, fortunately I have about me a convenient bodkin with which, if you like, I can slyly penetrate as much or so into your ladyship's flesh."

"Kind creature" returned the other, "I should be most happy to render you the same service, —but methinks this operation would be more likely to make us scream than weep, and his lordship will never forgive us if we should shriek in the pianissimos. He will never believe that he composes so finely that people cannot hear his compositions without shrieking."

But hark! the second act has commenced. More pathos and Miss P. I perceive, as bad as ever. See! she has dropped her handkerchief and something rolls out upon the floor. Some charm for weeping, I dare say. (To the footman.) Pick it up, and see what it is."

"Please your ladyship," said the man, "it is much like the inside of a Spanish onion, as any thing I ever saw or tasted. (Aside.)—What a treat for a hungry beggar. O the wasteful prodigacy of the rich!" "And so Miss P.," said his lordship, coming to the lady, "you have brought it to rendence my pathos with a Spanish onion, an approved receipt for the harmonpot. I own, but one that I little expected you to consider."

My lord—said the young lady, "are you so ungenerous as to reproach me with the means I took to give you satisfaction? If this music had been played at Drury Lane or Covent Garden it would have been hissed. A composer cannot trust the words of his own friends in his own drawing-room—a sure test was necessary, I could not weep, but a kind vegetable granted what nature denied.

"You might have kept the secret a little closer, said the discomforted composer.

FROM THE HUNDRED MERRY TALES OF SHAKSPEARE

Of hym that rode out of London and had his servaunt foloweyng on foote.

There was a manne on a time that rode a tayle out of London, and had his servaunt foloweyng after him on foote, the which he commyn to rate that the horse strake hym a great stroke upon the thye.—The servaunte thinkyng he to be reuenged, toke and threw a great stone at the horse, and hyt his master on the raynes of the backe, who thought it had bene his horse. He wythin a while looked backe and dyd dis servaunte be amse he came in dyny so farre behind the servaunt answered: Sir you horse hath gyuen me such a stroke upon my thygh, that I can gone faster. Trewely said his master, the horse is a good kyckar, for like wise with his hele right move he game me a great stroke upon the raynes of my backe.

Of hym that sought his asse and rode on his backe.

There was in the countrey of Florence an hasbande man, that used to ryse come to the market yp on many lytell asses. On a time as he came home warde, bayaise he was somewhat weryc, he came him selfe, he rode on one the strongest of them.—And as he rode drynnge his asses before him, he counted them, and forgot the asse that he rode on: wherfore he thought still that he had lost one. Thus sore troubled in his mynde, he had lys wife set up his asse, and lyckly rode agayn he lorke to the bowne my wives, to wake the asse, that he rode on. He asked of every body that he met, if they saw an asse stray adone. What he bende every bodye saye thys saw none sayde, makynge great sorowe he mourned. Bye and bye, he came to the place where they were set, he said: why sayst thou not thou? we be set already quod they. Nave quod the man: he that dyd stele, the goose sith yt not, yes that I do, quod he. Sayde thou dyd, quod the other. I dyd not, quod the man pryne of cursing, to bryng the goose home agayn.

Of the Doctour that went with the Forster to catch hydes.

There was a doctour on a tyme, whiche dwelled a foster, that went to hyde hyde with an oxe: that he might get with hym. The hynder was cryed out, and dressed hym with hornes, and set hym to his mate, and bade him an hydynge. When he saw the hynders a fight a pace, he sayde: There be many hydes a sighted, drawe thy nether where with the hydes flee away. The hynder was very angry, and blamed him greatly for his speakyng. Then he prayed to hyde his peace. When the hynder was in again, and many hydes were sighted, master doctour said in thynne: Iere personally adonat where with the hydes flee away. The hynder came out right angry, and some slyp used and sayde: that he has bin a lyar, he had yt we haste his pray. Why thys dyd he gode quoth the doctour: that the hydes do vanyshed fast. The doctour thought that the understandyng, and not the meyse hydde forced an ayre the hydes.

Extraordinary Incendiary.—Wednesday, 20th ult a cow, of the Down and Leicester breed, belonging to Mr Walker, of Islip, in this county, brought forth two fine lambs, and on the Friday morning following, the shepherd was surprised at finding two more lambs by the side of the same mother, all four likely to do well.—Oxford Herald.

An unsighted Dispatch.—The steamboat mail from New York, brought by the Providence and pilot line of stages, arrived here yesterday in seventeen hours and forty minutes—The shortest passage ever made between the two cities.

THE DRAMA

Park Theatre

The Kembles have returned from their Boston trip, but have not as yet broken through the sad routine of their plays. Dazzle, the Hunchback and Stranger have followed in the old accustomed order and been received with their usual welcome. Though the want of novelty dispirits us of a fresh theme, we cannot wonder at the little variety their performances present, when the repetition of the old plays continues to draw such full and admiring audiences. To the unmatched excellence of Hamlet and Julia we fully and warmly subscribe, but the Mrs Haller of Thursday Evening wanted all her uniously tenderness which was all supplied by a hard dry tone that spoke any thing but true feeling.

A light Farce in one Act was produced for the first time on Thursday, called "Capt. Stevens" or the Powell-Collar. It has all the farcical qualities which such trifles need;—with no great pretensions to wit, the dialogue is light and agreeable,—the situations sufficiently ludicrous, and the characters fairly drawn and well contrasted. The hero of the story, as in most modern novels, has less to do and more to be talked about than any other in the piece. He is in debt, difficulty, and dismayed,—when his friend Harry Splashton borrows of him a coat, the poodle collar on which seems quite as well known as the Rose to whom it belongs. The wearing of this borrowed garb plunges him into every imaginable difficulty,—a Bailiff takes him, as usual by the collar,—a dunning Tailor knows his own unpaid for coat again, and ab

THE FASHIONABLE ENTHUSIAST

At the musical entertainments of Lord Whisker at his mansion in Grosvenor square, one of the fair mistresses a Miss P. was observed to be frequently in tears. The sensibility of the girl was noticed by her lordship, who attributed it to the fascinating effect of the compositions, and with praiseworthy consideration he hastened to console her.

"Oh Lord!" my lord, your lordship's strains are so heart-rending," exclaimed the sobbing lady.

"Nay, my dear creature, moderate the pressure a mutton seize my tresses, if it distresses you I will endeavor to mitigate my pathos, and vel the spleen short of my talent. I know I am affecting—you soon is my forte. But, oh nature," exclaimed his lordship, looking up, "if I am endowed with these talents only to wring the heart of so fair a model of the perfections of her sex"——

"Forbear, my lord, to make any rash resolutions—what would the western world lose if a pen of so ravishing a delicacy were permitted to rest—I feel myself sometimes recovered now, and the sweet art of the opera may now proceed—but that tender passage—oh attempts to sing it, but is overpowered by her feelings—I shall never get over it."

The noble composer walked about in despair, striking his forehead from time to time, and almost cursing the hour when he brought into the world so overpowering a genius. "In future," said he, mentally, "I see it will be necessary to have Sir Henry Halford in attendance, and a convenient ottomany fitted up."

The rest of the company bore the music pretty well, and the ladies were all bursting with envy at Miss P.'s lachrymal facilities, none of them being able to spare—to say a drop of brine.

"It is very surprising," exclaimed a good-humored dowager, "but the more cakes I swallow, & the more tea I drink, the less I am inclined to cry. One would like to gratify his lordship, and endeavor, as much as in one lay, to approve his power over the passions, and it must be confessed that if all the ladies present would draw out their handkerchiefs, and weep a little in unison, the effect would be good. But for my own part, I fear the attempt is vain. I feel always in such dreadful high spirits."

"What can be done, my dear friend?" said her neighbor, "his lordship will certainly think us the most callous-hearted of beings, if we sit with unlachrymed eyelids before the extremity of the music. Some are melted to the extremity of woe. I have it though—what think you of our opera-tunes as a powerful sluggish sympathy, fortunately I have almost one a convenient bodkin with which, if you like, I can slily penetrate an inch or so into your ladyship's flesh."

"Kind creature," returned the other, "I should be most happy to render you the same service, but methinks this operation would be more likely to make us serious than weep, and his lordship will never forgive us if we should shriek in the pianissimo. He will never believe that he composes so finely that people cannot hear his compositions without shrieking."

But hark the second act has commenced. More pathos and Miss P. I perceive, as bad as ever. See! she has dropped her handkerchief, and something rolls out upon the floor. Some charm for weeping, I dare say. (To the footman.) Pick it up, and see what it is."

"Please your ladyship," said the man, "it is much like the inside of a Spanish onion, as any thing I ever saw or tasted." (Aside.)—What a treat for a hungry beggar. O the wasteful prodigacy of the rich!" And so Miss P.," said her lordship, coming to the lady, "you have thought it to reinforce my pathos with a Spanish onion, an approved receipt for the lacrymose. I know but one that I little expected you to outdo."

"My lord—said the young lady, "are you so ungenerous as to reproach me with the unasked boon to give you satisfaction? If this music had been played at Drury Lane or Covent Garden my tears would have been freed. A composer cannot trust the words of his own friends in his own drawing-room—a vast effort was necessary—I could not weep, but a kind vegetable granted what nature denied.

"You might have kept the secret a little closer, said the discomfited composer.

FROM THE HUNDRED MERRY TALES OF SHAKSPEARE.

Of high-born rode out of London and had his servant falsenigue on foote.

There was a mounse on a tyme that rode a mule out of London, and had his servant follow foote by her bmuse. Now the mule was somewhat wetse, so that he stroke him a great stroke upon the thye.—The servaunte thynke ye to be reuenged, take and throwe a great stone at the horse, and hytte his master on the ryenes of the backe, who thought it had bene his horse, and sayd, Thou knaue, I shall make thee to bylde his seruaunte because he tome mule stay so farre behynde: the seruaunt answered: Sir your horse hath gyuen me suche a stroke upon my thye, that I am go no faster. Trewely said his maystyr, the horse is a great lyar, for like wyse with his hye right mote he gaue me a great stroke upon the ryenes of my backe.

Of two that sought her love and rode on horseback.

There was in the countree of Florence an honeyfande man, that used to carse come to the market (you many tyme) ouer a fayre mare. On a tyme he came vnto Sienna, where he was somewhat wetse, so tyse him selfe he rode on one the strongest of them.—And as he rode drynynge his cowes before him, he forgotted them, and forgot the asse that he rode on, wherfore he thought stil that he lad one mare.

Anon, a gentylman, that was a lyttle ioli, and vnstudied in his mynde, he had his wife set vp his asses, and hastily rode ageynst the lady to the towne ryenes of Sienna, for to make the asse that he rode on. He asked of ouerys lords that he met if the asse on your thye mote wham he be mistrusty. Iudyes sayd they that some mote wham he be mistrusty. Iudyes sayd they that some mote wham he be mistrusty. At laste wham he was alighted he was perceyued, and shewedde hym playnlyes, that the asse that he rode on was the same that he lorde sometyme rode on before.

Of him that had his purse stole.

A man that had a purse stole from hym, and had not aspyered to the man stole, and desired to make an oyster or helpe that he had his purse again. The man stole answered he wolde. Sayd another the man stole, I pray you, sir, what mean ye that ye wolde do? Sayd he, I wolde make a sermon to the man stole, that he shall fyrst be sorye that he stole the purse, and after, he shall be sorye that he stole it, and at the last he shall be sorye that he was taken. Sayd the man stole, good Sir, I pray you that I may be present at your sermon, for I trowe it shall be a sermon for me.

Of the Dotkyn that ware of sayth the Fryder to catch Spyders.

There was a dotkyn on a tyme, whanne dwered thyngs that mote to other fryders with a mouse, that he sayd, I will fyrst go to the spyder. The fryder was a man wise and drowsy, and he was a man of lyttle wyt, which he was the fryder of a gyld, a pure fryder sayde. There he many fryders, a gyld drawn thys matter, where with the fryder drew vnto me. The fryder was very angry, and sayde vnto the dotkyn, I pray thee, dotkyn, go thy way, and come to-morrow to hym agyn. The dotkyn sayd, I will go, I will go. So he went, and came vnto the fryder, sayd, I am come agyn, and mote hymselfe vnto the fryder. The fryder sayde

UNITED STATES TRAVELLING & BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

CARDS.

A. L. DE ROSE,
PORTRAIT PAINTER,
95 Liberty street. a12 1y

GEO. M. K. UNDERHILL, Pocket Book Manufacturer, No. 50 Fulton street, New York.

LEONARD DEVOE, Boot and Shoemaker, 104 Laurens street.

THOMAS GREEN, Draper and Tailor, corner of Prince street and Broadway, New York.

J. BURDELL, Dentist, 302 Broadway corner of Duane street, entrance in Duane street.

WILLIAM HACKETT, Boot and Shoe Maker, No. 48 Nassau street.

FRANCIS AGER, BROWN JUG TAVERN, an old established English House, 538 Pearl, near Elm street, New York.

LECOUNT & HAMMOND, Map, Chart, and Topographical Engravers, No. 4 Wall street.

T. R. WHITNEY, Engraver, Copper Plate Printer, and Printer in Gold, No. 11 Madison street.

JOHN DARLEY, Draper and Tailor, corner of Liberty and William streets.

J. BARDOTTE'S Gentlemen's Dressing Rooms, 146 Broadway.

MEEKER & CLARK, Cabinet, Chair and Sofa Warehouse, 58 Broad street, New York.

WILLIAM N. THOMAS, Looking Glass Manufacturer. No. 126 Canal street.

A. ELSTON, fashionable Boot Maker, No. 14 Wall street.

BREWSTER'S Hat Store, 307 Broadway, New York. Hats made to any pattern.

HOOD & REEDER, Drapers and Tailors, 62 Fulton street.

SIMEON HAINES, No. 56 Broad street, Manufacturer of all kinds of Cabinet Furniture.

SHERMAN & DUBOIS, Merchant Tailors and Drapers, 102 Broad street, corner of Pearl, New York.

SETH B. SPALDING, Draper and Tailor, No. 9 John street.

W. H. CHAPMAN, Stock and Glove Store, No. 1 Maiden Lane. N. B. French and English Fancy Goods.

RUSHTON & ASPINWALL, Druggists, 110 Broadway. Medicine delivered at any hour of the night.

CARDS of address, Invitation and Professional, designed and engraved by Geo. W. Tenbner, 410 Pearl street, opposite Vandewater, New York.

DOWNING'S Oyster establishment, No. 5 Broad street. N. B. Sufficient room to accommodate from forty to sixty persons, in separate apartments from the bar.

WILLIAM HUTCHINS plain and fancy Dry Goods Store, No. 236, Pearl street, between Oak and Madison streets, New York.

J. CAMPBELL, Looking Glass and Picture Frame and Gilder, No. 164 Fulton street, New York. N. B. Old frames repaired.

J. L. CLARK'S Old Established and Truly Lucky Office, 168 Broadway, New York. Bank notes examined and all Lottery information given gratis. Please call at Clark's.

STINEMETS & BOLEN, Drapers and Tailors, corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York.

GEORGE A. HEALY, Manufacturer of Musical Instruments, 164 Nassau street, New York: also he can be found at Boston, Mass.

PARSELLS, Manufacturer of very superior Stocks of Silk, Satin, Bombazine, Velvet, &c. &c. 264 Broadway. Parsells would particularly recommend his beautiful article, the Cravat Stock.

A. H. WHEELER'S ROOM FOR WRITING AND BOOK-KEEPING, at No. 251 Broadway.

BOARD.—One or two Gentlemen can be accommodated with good Board, at 229, Washington street.

BOOTS AND SHOES POLISHED AND REPAIRED in the best style at No. 88 Nassau street, in the basement, by GRIFFIN & THOMAS.
nov10

TO MEDICAL STUDENTS.
BUCK'S CHEMISTRY, price $1 50; Emmons' Mineralogy, price $1 50; Buck's Medical Juris-prudence, price $5; Maygrier's Anatomy, price $2—just received and for sale by SWORDS, STANFORD & CO.
N. Y. 152 Broadway.

TO PRINTERS.—For sale cheap, a font of Long Primer, a fount of Small Pica, and a small fount of Brevier, all of which has been a little used, they would answer as a country newspaper. Enquire at No. 7 Wall st or at this office.
March 9 tf

BLACKMAN & CROSSINGHAM, successors to John Chapel, No. 70 Fulton street, N. Y. offer for sale Paste and Liquid Blacking in any quantity. Also, a handsome article of black and red Ink. Waterproof Black Ball that will preserve the leather and keep the feet dry. Also, Varnish, &c. All goods from their Factory warranted equal to any in the United States.

HEROY & JONES, Watch and Clock Makers, 187 Greenwich street. Clocks, watches, jewelry, gold, silver and plated ware; seals, keys and repeptums and other goods usually kept in their line, for sale and repair.

ISAAC D. NEAL, Apothecary and Druggist, No. 2 Franklin square, New York. Particular attention paid to Physicians prescriptions and family Medicines. Medicine Chests for sea voyages, Plantations, &c.

LOOKING GLASS AND PICTURE FRAME MANUFACTORY, No. 44 Chatham street, New York.—DEL VECCHIO respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he continues manufacturing Looking Glasses and Picture Frames wholesale, retail, and for exportation, and he warrants the articles that he manufactures of a superior quality. His terms will be found liberal.
N. B. Old Looking Glasses newly silvered and old frames regilt. M&2

JOHN MANGIN, No. 22 Wall street, Importer of Watches, Clocks, Musical Boxes, Materials and tools for watch makers. J. M. has always on hand a complete assortment of the above articles, which he offers at wholesale or retail on the most accommodating terms. Watches, Clocks, and Musical Boxes carefully repaired.

MR. ARNOLD, Surgeon Dentist, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, respectfully informs his friends and the public that his office is at No. 24 Vesey street, near St. Paul's church, where he performs all operations connected with his profession according to the latest and most approved principles.
Deficiencies of the Teeth supplied either with natural or mineral substances as required. Feb 2 2m

CATSUP, a very superior article, manufactured and sold at the corner of Broadway and Fulton street, where the best of OYSTERS and other Refreshments are served up to suit the palate of the most fastidious epicure.
Jan 19 JOHN A. MERRELL.

GOLD AND SILVER LEAF.—For sale at the manufactory No. 67 Watts st. New York: also beaver, Beaded Gilt and other Fancy Buttons, Gold and Silver, and German bronzes, warranted superior quality, at the lowest prices.
N. B. Dentist's gold, silver and platina, and tin foil of superior quality, will be forwarded by the single sheet or ounce, at the shortest notice and lowest prices free of charge, by
GEORGE S. WAITE.
19 67 Watt st. New York.

JOHN B. PERO, Hair Cutting Rooms, No. 2 & 3 in rear Dock Square, near City Tavern, Boston. Perfumery and Fancy Goods, wholesale and retail.

A SUITE of handsome furnished Apartments to let from the first of May next, in one of the most healthy and pleasant parts of the city. Apply at 268 East Broadway. a20

WANTED.—A Gardner who has been 20 years in the business, which he has a thorough knowledge of, in all its branches, wishes a situation in any part of the Union—he can give the most satisfactory references for good character and ability. Address C. B. (post paid) Museum House, corner Broadway and Anthony streets, next door to the Franklin Hotel. Feb 2

COAL.—SCHUYLKILL, LEHIGH & LACKAWANNA COAL of the first quality, for sale in lots to suit purchasers, by
JACOB SOUTHART.

RICHARD AUGUSTUS, 46 William street, has discovered a composition that completely prevents the cracking of leather—and is willing to warrant well made Boots (receiving his preparation daily) to wear over six months before the upper leather breaks. The great merits of this is very superior, and entirely supersedes the necessity of blacking.
Richard Augustus, would be much pleased to explain more particularly to any gentlemen who will do him the favor to call and try the advantages of the discovery.

FOREIGN and American Snuff Store—Fine Havana Cigars, Cavendish Tobacco, Cigar Cases, Sugar Tubes, Snuff Boxes, Foreign Pipes, Smoking Tobacco, &c. &c. always on sale at Mrs. G. NEWCOMBE'S, 237 1-2 Broadway, between Reed and Duane streets.

Popular Houses.

ADELPHI HOTEL,
3½ STATE STREET, ALBANY, BY J. CROSS.
Opposite the Rail Road Stage office, and near the Steam Boat Landing
m11

NIBLO'S HOTEL,
No. 112 BROADWAY, BETWEEN FINE AND CEDAR streets, New York.

THE subscriber returns his grateful acknowledgments to his friends and the public for the liberal support afforded him since his establishment in this city. Having found, however, that the name of his Hotel, which he originally adopted, (Congress Hall,) occasioned many inconveniences in consequence of the proprietor of a public establishment in his immediate vicinity having assumed the same title, and being unwilling by a continuance of the present name of his house, to embarrass his neighbor as well as himself, he has resolved on changing the same to that of NIBLO'S HOTEL, hoping under this, it will be in merit a continuance of public patronage. No situation in this city can present more advantages to permanent or transient guests than Niblo's Hotel. Its central location, being near the principal places of amusement and its vicinity to the public offices and business part of the town, renders it a most desirable resort for families and gentlemen engaged in commercial and other pursuits.
The experience which the subscriber has acquired as proprietor, for many years, of that extensive establishment the EXCHANGE HOTEL, in Petersburg, Virginia, and subsequent as an associate with Mr. Halsey, of the City Hotel, Philadelphia, will, he trusts, prove a sufficient guarantee to all who may honor him with their patronage, that nothing shall be wanting on his part, or by those in his employ, to contribute in every respect to their accommodation and comfort. d&w 22

CLINTON LUNCH,
Corner of Liberty street and Broadway.

THE proprietors of this establishment, which has been opened since May last, in consequence of the unparalleled support they have received, are induced to come before the public with the best thanks for the liberal patronage bestowed on them, and to assure them that nothing shall be wanting in their exertions to please, which is too much the case with many who undertake to conduct similar establishments, they are stimulated to increased exertions, if possible, and determined to prove to the public the great difference in which they have commenced, hoping thereby to deserve a continuance of that support they have hitherto so liberally been favored with. The undersigned being averse to all kinds of common-place puffing, have been determined that this establishment should rise or fall by its own merits or demerits; and as they have now been six months fairly before the public, and that they are justified in presuming that the exertions they have pursued in conducting the establishment have been generally approved, and as a proof of that determination to spare no pains or expense in improving and enlarging the same from time to time, as circumstances may require, the public accommodation, they have now to announce that they have at a very considerable expense, fitted up and handsomely furnished an extra Dining Room on the first floor, to be opened to the public on the 5th instant, the entrance to which is from No. 73 Liberty street. The proprietors will soon be enabled to get up Dinner Suppers for private parties, of all the delicacies of the season, in a style equal to any establishment in the city, at the shortest notice. Their Wines and Liquors will as usual continue to be chosen from the select of families and gentlemen in the city, and the persons employed by the proprietors will be continued, and their best efforts exercised to please and to deserve public patronage. The Oysters, Game, and Poultry, will be cooked in the most liberal principle. Hot Coffee and Tea at all hours from 7 in the morning till 12 at night. Oysters of the best quality, in all their varieties, and Soups of every description at all times.
GOULD & ATKINS.
nov 10

TAMMANY HALL,
Opposite the City Hall, New York.

THIS Establishment has been fitted up in a good style as any House of its class in the country, and is furnished throughout in a good style, for the accommodation of the public on the following plan:
Gentlemen can take their lodgings by the single night or by the week, as they please without any extra charge for Board, if he wishes to refreshments he can have them at any time he pleases and what he pleases to select from the Bill of Fare, which will hang in the Refectory or Bar Room with the prices of each article attached thereto. In the Basement Story is the Refectory, where Refreshments of most every kind may be had on the most reasonable terms, and in the best style at a minute's notice, from five o'clock until 12 o'clock at night. On the 2d Floor is the Bar and Reading Room.
The Lodgings are cool and comfortable being in the most healthy and pleasant part of the city, overlooking the Park and fronting on the City Hall. Clothes Washing and Supper parties can be accommodated on the most reasonable terms. The Bar is stocked with the choicest of Liquors and Wines, and the Larder furnished with the best the market affords, and no pains or expense will be spared in the proprietors to make this establishment a comfortable retreat for all those who will honor them with their patronage. Price of lodgings, Per week. $2,00, 3 nights, $1,00, single night 37 1-2 cents.
mar 1

REMOVAL.
L. CRUTTENDEN, of Albany,

HAS left his situation on the "Hill," and has taken the EAGLE TAVERN for a term of years, where he would be pleased to see his old acquaintances as well as his new friends. N. B. The reason for the above transaction, and why he is plenty as blackberries, "I shall be the subject of a forthcoming communication; although many of them he shall scarce forbear to read, for fear of offending his friends. He intends to give hereafter, a very serious and swelling account of all the excellent article that he shall have in the house and on the table; the very superior treatment his guests shall receive &c. He will even enumerate the number of dishes that will be on the table, as well as a number of other, facetious things that cannot be mentioned at this time.
June 13 ly L. CRUTTENDEN.
South Market st., corner of Hamilton.

CONGRESS HALL,
PARK PLACE, Albany.—By W. LANDON, Formerly Cruttenden's.

N. B. A Porter with a waggon, will be in regular attendance to carry baggage to and from the boat free of expense. June ly

LINE OF OMNIBUSES
From Twelfth street to Wall street.

ROSWELL BEACH, has purchased this Line throughout, and having added, as an Extra, the beautiful Stage called "Tom Thumb," has determined to start, alternately every fifteen minutes, the following splendid Stages, viz. the Benjamin Franklin, Paragon, Veteran, Albion, and Tom Thumb, which are not surpassed in convenience or beauty by any in the city. The fares have been reduced at great expense, and are kept in the best condition for "the track." The Line home runs in first rate order. The Proprietor hopes, by the regularity of starting, the excellence of his Horses, and the civility of his Drivers, to deserve the patronage of those who may choose to use the Omnibus, as a safe, quiet, and easy conveyance, and of all price and quality. The proprietors of the Line will be continued, and their best efforts exercised to please and to deserve public patronage. The Omnibuses will leave Newburgh on the most liberal principles. Hot Coffee and Tea at all hours from 7 in the morning till 12 at night. Oysters of the best quality, in all their varieties, and Soups of every description at all times.
GOULD & ATKINS.
nov 10

TAMMANY HALL,
Opposite the City Hall, New York.

THIS Establishment has been fitted up as a good style as any House of its class in the country, and is furnished throughout in a good style, for the accommodation of the public on the following plan:
Gentlemen can take their lodgings by the single night or by the week, as they please without any extra charge for Board, if he wishes refreshments he can have them at any time he pleases and what he pleases to select from the Bill of Fare, which will hang in the Refectory or Bar Room with the prices of each article attached thereto. In the Basement Story is the Refectory, where Refreshments of most every kind may be had on the most reasonable terms, and in the best style at a minute's notice, from five o'clock until 12 o'clock at night. On the 2d Floor is the Bar and Reading Room.
The Lodgings are cool and comfortable being in the most healthy and pleasant part of the city, overlooking the Park and fronting on the City Hall. Clothes Washing and Supper parties can be accommodated on the most reasonable terms. The Bar is stocked with the choicest of Liquors and Wines, and the Larder furnished with the best the market affords, and no pains or expense will be spared in the proprietors to make this establishment a comfortable retreat for all those who will honor them with their patronage. Price of lodgings, Per week. $2,00, 3 nights, $1,00, single night 37 1-2 cents.
mar 1

REMOVAL.

BLACKMAN & CROSSINGHAM, successors to John Chapel, No. 70 Fulton street, N. Y. offer for sale Paste and Liquid Blacking in any quantity. Also, a handsome article of black and red Ink. Waterproof Black Ball that will preserve the leather and keep the feet dry. Also, Varnish, &c. All goods from their Factory warranted equal to any in the United States.

HEROY & JONES, Watch and Clock Makers, 187 Greenwich street. Clocks, watches, jewelry, gold, silver and plated ware; seals, keys and repeptums and other goods usually kept in their line, for sale and repair.

ISAAC D. NEAL, Apothecary and Druggist, No. 2 Franklin square, New York. Particular attention paid to Physicians prescriptions and family Medicines. Medicine Chests for sea voyages, Plantations, &c.

LOOKING GLASS AND PICTURE FRAME MANUFACTORY, No. 44 Chatham street, New York.—DEL VECCHIO respectfully informs his friends and the public, that he continues manufacturing Looking Glasses and Picture Frames wholesale, retail, and for exportation, and he warrants the articles that he manufactures of a superior quality. His terms will be found liberal.
N. B. Old Looking Glasses newly silvered and old frames regilt. M&2

JOHN MANGIN, No. 22 Wall street, Importer of Watches, Clocks, Musical Boxes, Materials and tools for watch makers. J. M. has always on hand a complete assortment of the above articles, which he offers at wholesale or retail on the most accommodating terms. Watches, Clocks, and Musical Boxes carefully repaired.

MR. ARNOLD, Surgeon Dentist, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons in London, respectfully informs his friends and the public that his office is at No. 24 Vesey street, near St. Paul's church, where he performs all operations connected with his profession according to the latest and most approved principles.
Deficiencies of the Teeth supplied either with natural or mineral substances as required. Feb 2 2m

CATSUP, a very superior article, manufactured and sold at the corner of Broadway and Fulton street, where the best of OYSTERS and other Refreshments are served up to suit the palate of the most fastidious epicure.
Jan 19 JOHN A. MERRELL.

GOLD AND SILVER LEAF.—For sale at the manufactory No. 67 Watts st. New York: also beaver, Beaded Gilt and other Fancy Buttons, Gold and Silver, and German bronzes, warranted superior quality, at the lowest prices.
N. B. Dentist's gold, silver and platina, and tin foil of superior quality, will be forwarded by the single sheet or ounce, at the shortest notice and lowest prices free of charge, by
GEORGE S. WAITE.
19 67 Watt st. New York.

JOHN B. PERO, Hair Cutting Rooms, No. 2 & 3 in rear Dock Square, near City Tavern, Boston. Perfumery and Fancy Goods, wholesale and retail.

A SUITE of handsome furnished Apartments to let from the first of May next, in one of the most healthy and pleasant parts of the city. Apply at 268 East Broadway. a20

WANTED.—A Gardner who has been 20 years in the business, which he has a thorough knowledge of, in all its branches, wishes a situation in any part of the Union—he can give the most satisfactory references for good character and ability. Address C. B. (post paid) Museum House, corner Broadway and Anthony streets, next door to the Franklin Hotel. Feb 2

COAL.—SCHUYLKILL, LEHIGH & LACKAWANNA COAL of the first quality, for sale in lots to suit purchasers, by
JACOB SOUTHART.

RICHARD AUGUSTUS, 46 William street, has discovered a composition that completely prevents the cracking of leather—and is willing to warrant well made Boots (receiving his preparation daily) to wear over six months before the upper leather breaks. The great merits of this is very superior, and entirely supersedes the necessity of blacking.
Richard Augustus, would be much pleased to explain more particularly to any gentlemen who will do him the favor to call and try the advantages of the discovery.

FOREIGN and American Snuff Store—Fine Havana Cigars, Cavendish Tobacco, Cigar Cases, Sugar Tubes, Snuff Boxes, Foreign Pipes, Smoking Tobacco, &c. &c. always on sale at Mrs. G. NEWCOMBE'S, 237 1-2 Broadway, between Reed and Duane streets.

Stages and Steamboats.

NO MONOPOLY !!!
PEOPLE'S LINE FOR PHILADELPHIA,
Via New Brunswick, Princeton and Trenton.

The steamboat NEW YORK, Captain J. Vanpelt, leaves Pier No. 2, North River, foot of Morrison street, daily, Sundays excepted, at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, for New Brunswick, where passengers will take Record-sophisticated Troy-built Coaches and proceed through Princeton to Trenton, from thence into the steamboat PHILADELPHIA, Capt. L. Davis, and arrive at Philadelphia early the same afternoon. Fare through $2.
Passage to and from New Brunswick and Amboy, 37 1-2 cts. Breakfasts 37 1-2 cts.
The proprietors of the People's Line rely on the generous public, as assuming them against a monopoly, at least with and not rest it is to put down all competition, to enable them to charge the highest prices they can; which they will do if there is no rival line to oppose them. A fair and honorable competition, with a choice of conveyance, is always an advantage to the public.
Apply to or address THOMAS WHITFIELD, agent, No. 1 Courtlandt street, and at the People's Line Office 5 Washington street, opposite the wharf, or on board the boat.
All Specie, Goods, Baggage, &c. at the risk of the owners thereof.
For the accommodation of travellers and safety of their baggage, the same coaches run through from boat to boat, without the inconvenience of changing on the road.
N. B. Passengers who take this line avoid the great danger and inconvenience which they are subjected to in travelling on crowded Rail Roads, so often experienced in consequence of the cars getting off the tracks of the cotton and tobacco, and thereby liable to upset.
Easton Stage leaves New Brunswick, daily on the arrival of the Steamboat, and arrives the same evening.
WM. B. JAQUES, Agent, for
J. BRUSHE & CO. Proprietors.

BOSTON AND PROVIDENCE.
TREMONT MAIL STAGES
Leaves Boston every morning at 5, and Providence at 6 o'clock.

Also, Steam Boat Mail leaves Providence every day, on the arrival of the boats, and arrives in Boston time to the three hour stages, on the principal part of the Stages of the Citizens line.
For Seats or Extra Coaches, in Boston, apply at City Tavern, Brattle street and Washington Coffee House, No. 1 Washington street.
In Providence, at Tremont Stage Office, corner of Market square and South Main street, and to the Agent on board of the Boats on their arrival.
All Baggage and Freight is at the risk of the owner thereof. Passengers wishing to travel by this route will please not to pay the money to any other Boats.
C. B. WIDDER, Agent.
N. B. It will be seen by reference to several papers of the city, that the Citizens Stage Company have broken out with new and extensive opposition, by the Boats not with new and extensive opposition, by the Boats not running the only Stages from this City to Providence, to connect with the Boats; and also designed to give the monopoly a full, this was opposed Mail Stage Company, but has been beaten off the ground, which had remained them in the full possession of the whole Line, and gave them another opportunity to monopolize and impose upon travellers, as they had in other stations at this Line, when a good wholesome opposition has not kept them within proper bounds.
As they have practiced such a course of deception upon the public, we pay no regard to such foul tongue of imposition, other than to say that, where we have large additions to our Line, which, with our better Stock and Coaches, and in less time, from the Boats, on an average, than any other line on the route.
m11

NEW-HAVEN & HARTFORD
SPLENDID LINE.

Daily, Sundays excepted. Passage from New-York to Hartford, including stage fare, $3. To New-Haven, $2.

The steamboat SUPERIOR Capt. Sanford, and the new steamboat SPLENDID, Capt. Butcher, will on Tuesday the 26th inst. commence their regular trips, on the splendid new steamboat SUPERIOR,